Republican Ticket Sweeps
the State—Otis F. Glenn
Is Elected U. S. Senator.

U. S. Senator Otis F. Glenn (R)
Governor Louis L. Emmerson (R)
Lieut. Gov. Fred E. Sterling (R)
Sec. of State W. J. Stratton (R)
State Auditor Oscar Nelson (R)
State Treasurer Omer N. Custer (R)
Attorney Gen. O. E. Carlstrom (R)
University Trustees Merle J. Trees (R), J. W. Armstrong (R), Mrs. Mary E. Busey (R), Frank H. Simpson (R).
Congressman at Large ... Ruth Hanna McCormick (R), Richard Yates (R)

More than keeping pace with Hoover and Curtis, Louis L. Emmerson, Republican, easily won the governorship of Illinois from his Democratic rival, Floyd E. Thompson; and the rest of the Republican state ticket, as given at the head of the column, rode in comfortably on the great G. O. P. wave.

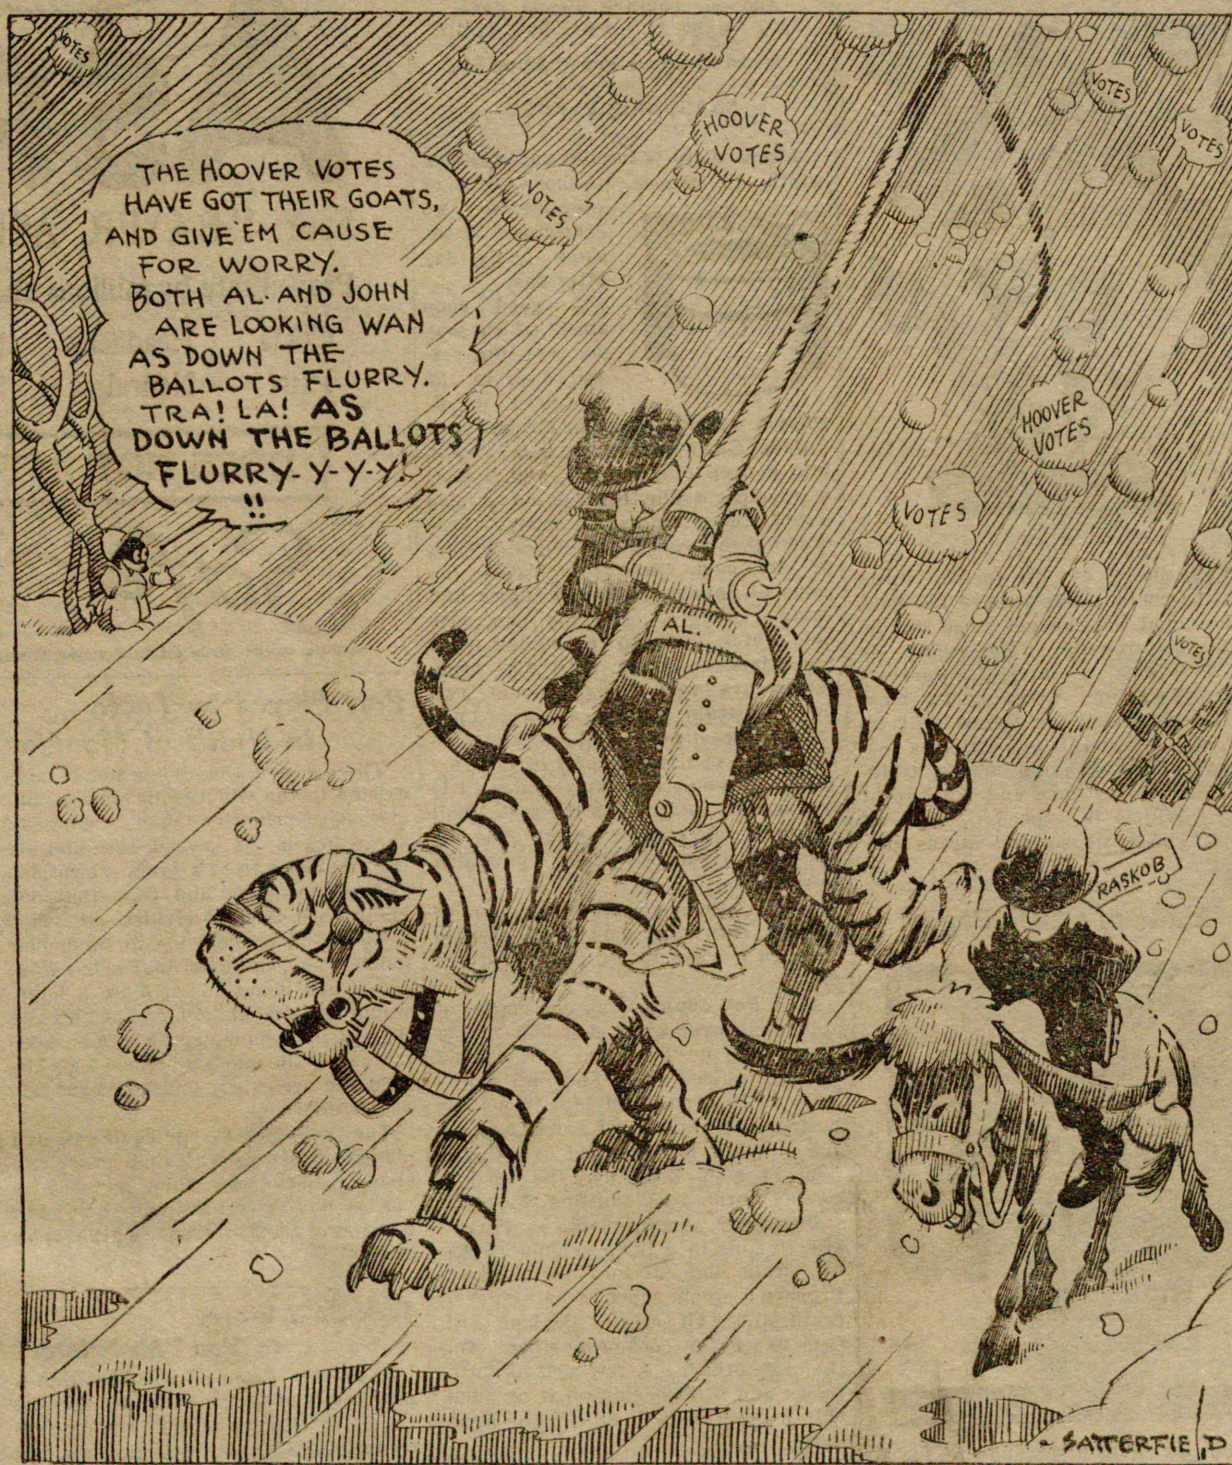

Considering the wet sentiment in Chicago and Cook county and the fierce factional fight among the Republicans of the metropolis, the result was highly satisfactory to the leaders of the victorious party. Cook county gave Hoover a majority of about 100,000, and Emmerson captured it from Thompson with a majority that, added to the figures from the other counties, gave him the state by something like 500,000.

Glenn Wins Senatorship.

Otis F. Glenn, who shared with Emmerson the brunt of the state battle, had a much harder fight to defeat his Democratic opponent for United States senator, A. J. Cermak of Chicago, who was openly wet and popular and who benefited by the votes thrown

The Retreat From Moscow

It Is All Over Now,
But the Shouting

Well, it's all over and it was a veritable Republican landslide. The vote in the territory in which this paper circulates was overwhelmingly Republican. Weeks of work resulted in a big victory for the G. O. P.

Here is the way Mokena lined up in the landslide:

A total of 486 ballots were cast of which 167 were straight Republican, 54 straight Democrat and 263 mixed tickets. The lineup for the candidates on the two major tickets is as follows:

REPUBLICAN PARTY: Herbert Hoover, Charles Curtis 382; for United States Senator, Otis F. Glenn 342; for governor, Louis L. Emmerson 389; for lieutenant governor, Fred E. Sterling 365; for secretary of state, William J. Stratton 374; for auditor of public accounts, Oscar Nelson 362; for state treasurer, Omer N. Custer 359; for attorney general, Oscar E. Carlstrom 382; for trustees of University of Illinois, Merle J. Trees 355; James W. Armstrong 358; Mrs. Mary E. Busey 353; for trustee of the University of Illinois to fill vacancy Frank H. Simpson 365; for congressman at large Ruth Hanna McCormick 358; R. Yates, 364; for Representative in Congress Frank R. Reid 367; for representatives, Lottie Holman O'Neil 482; John L. Walker 432; John M. Jenco 251½; for states attorney Hjalmar Rehn 344; for circuit clerk Paul V. Wunder 374; for recorder of deeds William W. Smith 374; for county auditor Thomas K. Sprague 371; for coroner E. A. Kingston 384; for county surveyor William H. Zarley 368.

DEMOCRATIC PARTY: Alfred E. Smith and Joseph T. Robinson 98; for U. S. Senate A. J. Cermak 109; for governor Floyd E. Thompson 72; for lieutenant governor Peter A. Waller 70; for secretary of state William D. Meyer 70; for auditor of public accounts George F. Sehring 84; for state treasurer Geo. W. Alschuler 77; for attorney general Thomas J. Courtney 65; for trustees of the University of Illinois Mrs. Helen Heffernan 69; Walter T. Day 71; Mrs. Nellie Freeman 67; for trustee of the University of Illinois to fill vacancy Robert R. Ward 72; for congressman at large Charles F. Brown 79; C. D. Joplin 69; for representative in congress Erwin L. Wilson 72; for representative Michael F. Henneberry 238½; for states attorney John P. Haley 114; for circuit clerk John A. Zelko, Jr., 68; for recorder of deeds Jos.

To fill the vacancy on the Supreme court bench caused by the resignation of Floyd Thompson, Cyrus Dietz was elected, defeating Warren H. Orr.

Richard M. Yates was sent back to Washington as congressman at large, and Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick was elected to the similar position made vacant by the death of Henry R. Rathbone.

The Illinois delegation in congress remains 20 Republicans and 7 Democrats. The Democrats elected Harry Baker in the First district, where Os-to him by the Thompson-Crowe ward leaders in Chicago. In that city and in Cook county Cermak had a big lead, but the down state returns not only wiped this out but put Glenn on the winning side with approximately 200,000 majority.

Attorney General Oscar E. Carlstrom, running for re-election, had the easiest time and led the state ticket, after Emmerson, coming closer to the Hoover majority than any other. He had the advantages of having held the office for four years, of having withdrawn from the gubernatorial contest in favor of Emmerson and of being an exceedingly able campaigner, so his victory over State Senator Thomas J. Courtney of Chicago never was in doubt.

Officials Re-elected.

Lieutenant Governor Fred Sterling and State Auditor Oscar Nelson retain their offices. William J. Stratton won the office of secretary of state, notwithstanding the strong fight put up by his Democratic opponent, Alderman William D. Meyerling of Chicago. Omer N. Custer returns to the state treasuryship in which he served a term ending two years ago; and the Republican candidates for places on the board of trustees of the University of Illinois went in with the rest of the ticket without any trouble.

To fill the vacancy on the Supreme court bench caused by the resignation of Floyd Thompson, Cyrus Dietz was elected, defeating Warren H. Orr.

Richard M. Yates was sent back to Washington as congressman at large, and Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick was elected to the similar position made vacant by the death of Henry R. Rathbone.

Fire In Pete's
Place at Mokena

Fire of unknown origin broke out in the kitchen of the restaurant of Peter Michaelson's place south of Mokena on Wolf road about 9:30 o'clock Wednesday night. Mr. Michaelson had gone home.

Philip Hacker while driving by on Wolf road saw the flames in the building and notified Mr. Michaelson after which he went to Mokena and turned in the fire alarm. The fire department quickly responded and soon had the blaze under control. The interior of the building was damaged more by smoke and water than by the fire. The loss is covered by insurance.

Hennebry Gets Big Plurality

Riding on a crest of straight democratic ballots, each of which gave him three votes, Michael F. Hennebry, democrat, of Wilmington, was re-elected to the general assembly from the 41st district yesterday, polling the largest total ever registered by a candidate for any office in Will county.

Mr. Hennebry polled 52,743 votes in Will county. John M. Jenco, republican candidate for representative was badly defeated Tuesday. The representatives who will go to Springfield besides Mr. Hennebry are Mrs. Lottie Holman O'Neil, John L. Walker.

Rehn Wins By
Majority of 3,916

Hjalmar Rehn, republican, was re-elected state's attorney of Will county in Tuesday's election, defeating John P. Haley, democrat, by a majority of 3,916 in one of the most interesting of the county contests.

Haley's vote ran with Gov. Smith in Joliet township and he had gained a lead of about 300 votes at midnight before the strong Rehn precincts of the city and county had reported. When the 21st Joliet, and the Ridgewood precincts began to report, Rehn overcame Haley's lead and began to pile up a majority which was increased as the county returns came in from republican strongholds.

Hundreds Attend
Moss Golden
Wedding at B. I.

Mr. and Mrs. James Moss have traveled the path of life together for half a century and in commemoration of the memorable event, a golden wedding celebration was staged at the Eagles Hall in Blue Island at which 336 guests were present, Monday evening.

The hall was prettily decorated in gold and white and the long dining room tables in the basement were also prettily decorated. Cute candy containers surmounted with a tiny wedding bell were placed as favors at the plate of each guest.

Each cup of ice cream had a tiny gold leaf on it which the guests pinned on their coats and dresses. Rev. Allison F. Clark one time pastor of the Tinley Park M. E. church gave a very fine address and re-united the happy couple in the bonds of wedlock which they first entered fifty years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Moss were surrounded by their daughters and two sons and their children besides their large host of friends. Mrs. Moss wore a golden head dress and Mr. Moss had a gold leaf on his coat lapel.

The guests made merry until the early hours of election day morning. Dancing of the old time dances was greatly enjoyed. Jack Eddy who is famous among the older people for his old time music and who often played at dances in Tinley Park in the old days, furnished the music for this occasion.

Mrs. Moss read a poem which the father of Mr. Moss composed and gave to his son when he was married half a century ago. The poem will be published in the next issue of this paper.

Mr. and Mrs. Moss first resided in Kansas after being married and later settled near Tinley Park and resided in this section for over thirty years. They have of late been residing at Cedar Lake and at Crown Point, Indiana. Their great throng of friends wish them much happiness, good health and many more happy anniversaries.

Dear Sir:

I thought may be you might be interested in a letter from me.

Have been traveling in Texas the state of cotton and corn, have been in this state two weeks and I sure have seen some cotton. I also picked cotton one day. This seems to be an Al Smith country but to-morrow will tell.

Harley, my son is with me. He has been in Texas 8 months for his health. We leave Fort Worth for Phoenix Arizona, Tuesday, Nov. 7.

We are traveling by bus line. Came up from Georgetown, Texas to Fort Worth this evening. Phoenix is about one thousand miles from Fort Worth.

If I see something of interest in New Mexico and Arizona will try and write you again.

WILL CO. BOND ISSUE CARRIES
BY 3,724 VOTES

The Will County bond issue calling for $1,750,000 for the purpose of constructing 58 miles of paved highways in Will County, carried by a majority of 3,724 in Tuesday's election, with 62 of the 70 precincts reporting. The eight precincts still missing will not be enough to change the result.

The issue was carried by the Joliet voters, the rural towns in the county voting against the issue in the main. Here is the way some of the towns voted against the measure:

Green Garden 52 yes and 176 no; Frankfort first precinct 168 yes 191 no; Lockport second 295 yes, 303 no; Monee 214 yes, 400 no; Manhattan 55 yes, 334 no; Peotone first precinct 33 yes, 544 no; 2nd precinct 32 yes, 318 no; Wilmington 1st, 200 yes, 240 no; Wilmington 2nd, 229 yes, 252 no; Wilton 65 yes, 215 no.

Mokena 2nd precinct of Frankfort township 224 yes, 220 no. Here the issue carried by 4 votes. New Lenox 368 yes, 226 no. The issue carried by a majority of 144 votes.

Two of the main pieces of road to be built under the county bond issue is a stretch of about 9 miles from Joliet to the Cook and Will county line to meet the Southwest Highway which is now under course of construction at Orland. This will bring the new short cut route from Chicago to Joliet cutting off a considerable distance between the two cities.

Another important link is the connecting of the Lincoln highway with 143rd street by way of Wolf Road thru Mokena, thus bringing about the realization of the vision of the promoters of Wolf Road who started a movement in January 1927 to have Wolf Road paved. This movement resulted in the formation of the Mokena Hard Road Improvement Association thru whose efforts the paving of Wolf Road was brought to the attention of the Cook County highway department and the agitation for a bond issue was begun in Will Co.

Here is a description of the roads to be paved as prepared by Mr. Kinzery of the Chicago Regional Planning Association:

Illinois' greatest building program, involving the expenditure of millions, is in progress under the direction of the various departments of the state.

Included are a large number of additions and improvements to the state charitable institutions, involving more than $5,000,000, together with road construction and the advancement of work on the Illinois waterway. In addition to the work now under contract, many other projects will be added before the expiration of the administration of Governor Small.

In addition to the road program for the year, which totaled $43,000,000 for pavement and bridges with more to come, the state is doing a large amount of work on the waterway locks at Brandon road pool, where 300 men are employed each day. Their work is expected to continue for several weeks. New buildings and improvements are being made at many of the charitable and educational institutions for which appropriations were made at the last session of the general assembly.

It is probable that the contract for the new state hospital in Kankakee county will be made before long. The appropriation for the building and grounds was $1,000,000. The land was purchased some time ago.

Road construction in the state, which has set a new record, has resulted in the expenditure of vast sums. Only a short time ago $9,000,000 in bonds of the $100,000,000 bond issue were sold to an eastern syndicate. The greater part of this money has been expended and an additional $8,000,000 will be sold early in November. After the $8,000,000 is disposed of there will be a balance of $25,000,000 out of the $100,000,000 bond issue remaining for the new administration which assumes charge in January.

A comparison of cattle testing records from all states in the Union shows that Illinois is among the foremost in results accomplished since January 1, this year. D. W. Robison, superintendent of animal industry in the Illinois department of agriculture, addressing a Piatt county gathering at Monticello recently, went into the reports compiled by federal authorities at Washington, and drew therefrom the following information:

"In the number of herds tested during the first eight months of 1928, Illinois ranks first with 73,823 herds of cattle. Wisconsin, first in the total number of cattle tested, is second in number of herds; Pennsylvania, Minnesota, New York and Iowa follow in the order named.

"In the number of cattle tested during the period for which information is available, Wisconsin leads with upward of 942,000 head as compared to something over 680,000 in Illinois. Minnesota also outranks Illinois in this particular, but in both of these northern dairy states, the cattle average 17 head to the herd. In Illinois, the average dairy herd totals only nine head.

"Illinois ranks foremost in another achievement—the number of counties accredited. Here in Illinois, 20 counties, or about one-fifth of the state gained this recognition between January 1 and September 1 this year. By the end of 1928, the number is expected to grow by about 50 per cent. North Carolina is a close second to Illinois in the number of counties accredited this year. They have brought in 19 since January 1.

The state of Illinois and the United States government have approved plans for the construction of a new bridge across the Illinois river three miles above Grafton. Construction will start next month and will be completed by the time the farmers of Calhoun county, now without a railroad or bridge, begin the shipping of their next apple crop. The bridge will be of concrete and steel, with a revolving draw. It will be 2,700 feet long with a 12-foot roadway on each side of a single railroad line. It will cost $700,000 and farmers and merchants of Calhoun county have pledged themselves to give $250,000 to the fund, by a tax of 25 cents on each barrel of apples shipped. The promoters of the bridge are also planning a railroad from Grafton to Quincy, a distance of 95 miles, to run through Calhoun county, at a cost of $3,000,000.

Announcement has been received with considerable interest by state departments to the effect that experiments at Danville in the manufacture of paper from Illinois cornstalks have proved successful. Use of the new paper will be tried out on December 15 when the Prairie Farmer, a farm publication, will print an edition in which the product will be used; the following day the Danville Commercial-News will make a test of the new paper.

Vocational agricultural classes in high schools throughout central Illinois will coach their dairy cattle judging teams for a contest at Jacksonville in January, when the state dairymen hold their annual convention and cattle show. Stillman J. Starnard, director of agriculture and secretary of the state association, planning the convention program, says the judging contest is the most helpful feature of the meeting in that it encourages intense study of dairy cattle by the state's future agricultural leaders, now Smith-Hughes agricultural students.

The October "Better Cream" poster, issued through co-operation of the Illinois Butter Manufacturers' Improvement association, Illinois state department of agriculture, Illinois Dairymen's association, and the Illinois Chamber of Commerce utilizes an attractive cartoon. In this picture, an animated cream can, labeled "Good Cream," posing before the mirror called the market, is reflected in "Better Prices," sparkling with dollars and cents. The poster also tells the reader that good cream is:

1. Clean and smooth; free from foreign odors and flavors.
2. Properly cooled; added to shipping can when cool.
3. Fresh and sweet, or only slightly sour.
4. Testing from 30 per cent to 45 per cent butterfat.
5. Delivered frequently and regularly.

"This poster, like other united efforts of these agencies, is a part of an extensive program under way in Illinois for the improvement of the dairy farming business. Dealers find that it pays better to handle farm commodities of good quality," the director of agriculture, Stillman J. Starnard, explains. "For this reason, we find that any plan of merit, outlined to commercial institutions that are concerned, as a means for the advancement of the farming industry, finds favor."

With the rabbit season but a short time away and anxious nimrods already at work polishing up the trusty shotguns, Dr. Isaac D. Rawlings, state health director, takes occasion to issue a public statement reminding hunters that cottontails in Illinois are frequently infected with tularemia and that this debilitating disease may be transmitted to the careless sportsman. Last year a number of cases occurred in Illinois and all of them were traced to infected rabbits. Danger of contracting the disease is limited almost entirely to the person who dresses the game and to him only when the skin is broken so that blood from the rabbit makes contact with the active blood of the human.

Based on the average increase over 1924, as shown by figures from ten cities in Illinois where figures were available, an estimated 3,597,644 persons were eligible to vote in the Illinois general election held November 6. This figure includes 1,665,000, the voting strength of Cook county as shown by the registrar's books, plus 1,932,644, the estimated registration downstate.

Governor Small has received notice of the Schubert centennial to be observed in the United States the week of November 18-25. A box of horse chestnuts was also received by the governor, with the announcement that they are from the 1928 crop of the American Friendship tree. The box, from Miss Barbara Bayne, Indianapolis, Ind., contained a request that the nuts be planted. Two will be placed in the executive mansion yard.

Closing the biggest season on record, the nursery inspection forces of the Illinois department of agriculture, under the supervision of O. T. Olsen, find that nurseries in Illinois are in increasing number and in area. Supervision for protection against insect pests and plant diseases, and embargoes that forbid importation of nursery stock without inspection is given as a factor in the rapid development of the orchard business in Illinois within recent years. Nurseries are keeping pace with the growing demands of Illinois orchardists and ship their products to many distant states with certificates that assure freedom from infection or insect infestation, the reports indicate.

Although commercial hatcheries, under state inspection that recognizes quality, have increased in number and capacity, the farm incubator is still a strong factor in poultry production. The farm equipment survey of 1928 shows that there are 92,141 farms in Illinois that hatch their own baby chicks in incubators. This figures 40.8 per cent of the total farms as given in the federal farm census of 1924. The southeast corner of the state—east and south from Jefferson county—has the highest proportion of its farms thus equipped, 48 per cent. The United States and Illinois departments of agriculture and the University of Illinois, with some 2,500 local observers, compiled this survey of farm equipment.

The fact that a county is out of funds does not relieve it of paying blind relief, Attorney General Carlstrom said in an opinion, declaring the legislative act mandatory on the county. A discharge from draft and not from the United States army does not entitle a person to admission to the Soldiers' and Sailors' home at Quincy, Roy W. Ide, state director of public welfare, was told.

Co-operating in a survey of the Calhoun county apple movement, fruit inspection forces of the state department of agriculture and research workers of the University of Illinois will find out how much fruit left that county this season by ferries, barges and steamboats. They will also learn how various packages compare in popularity. Last spring, these two agencies combined in conducting instructive sessions in Calhoun county, advocating care in grading and packing. The erection of three modern packing plants resulted.

Things to Give as Christmas Presents

Lamps Are Modernistic

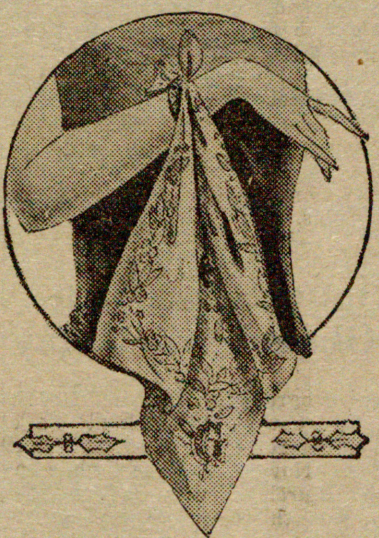

When Santa Claus started to look into the matter of gifts for Christmas 1928, he could scarce believe his eyes, as he noted the changes since last he made his rounds. "Modernistic is the thing now," so interior decorators keep telling him. Consequently most of the gifts that he brings will be just that—modernistic, flaunting designs which abound in angles, triangles, cubistic outlines and flamboyant color. Which is especially true of lamps, shades, base and all as pictured.

Made of Crepe Paper

This geranium rivals nature for it blooms every day in the year. Never fails. It is the latest thing in paper flower decorations. It is so realistic as to be deceiving—looks like nature's very own. Charming to give as a Christmas remembrance. A roll of geranium-colored paper, some green paper for leaves, a bit of wire, artificial moss to fill the flower pot is the equipment necessary for the making of these decorative flowers. One can either hand-enamel the flower pots, using dissolved sealing wax, which works very satisfactorily, or fluted paper can be tied around as florists do.

New Handkerchief Fad

She does not "wear her heart on her sleeve" for her party dress is sleeveless, but she does tie her handkerchief, which is a huge square of filmy chiffon to her wrist, so that it will flutter and flutter as she "trips the light fantastic." If you would bring joy via a Christmas gift to the modern miss who is looking for thrills in the way of new trinkets of fashion, present her with one of these "formal" handkerchiefs as they are called.

Gorgeous Sofa Cushion

At Christmas time and all the year for that matter fancy turns to sofa cushions. The one pictured here is a gem in needlework. Here we see gay yarn embroidery at its best tufted on black velvet in bas relief. The effectiveness of black enlivened with gay color is stressed more than ever for sofa cushions. One of the very charming ideas is that of flowers crocheted of bright woolen yarn, which are then applied on black satin, velvet or felt. Hand-painted black satin cushions are very popular.

SEASONABLE FOOD

Where there is infinite variety from which to choose, it shows lack of progression to continue with the same foods day after day.

A good soup stock which may be kept for several days in the ice chest is always a welcome asset to the larder.

Soup Stock.—Slice a large onion into a deep granite dish, add a slice of turnip cut fine, a large carrot also sliced, three stalks of celery, three dozen peppercorns, six cloves, a stick of cinnamon, three bay leaves, the same of parsley, sage and thyme and summer savory. Fill the pan with cold water, bring to the boiling point and simmer slowly until the vegetables are well cooked—about two hours. Strain through a coarse muslin and measure the liquor. For each quart add one teaspoonful of beef extract. Dissolve the extract in a little of the soup and add to the rest. Boil up once and serve. Aspic may be prepared from this stock by adding gelatin.

For a corn soup add one cupful of cooked corn that has been pressed through a sieve to six cupfuls of the stock.

Split Pea Soup.—Soak one cupful of split peas over night and boil in the same water until tender. Add a sliced carrot, a sliced onion and half a turnip. Brown the vegetables in a little butter, cover with beef stock, boil up, rub through a sieve and reheat. A ham or soup bone may be used if cooked in the peas, omitting the stock.

Creamed Sweetbreads.—Parboil sweetbreads in a little acidulated water, drain and cut into small pieces. Prepare a cream sauce of half chicken broth and half cream, thicken with flour and butter cooked together. Add the sweetbreads. A few cooked mushrooms and a little chicken fat at hand, will make the dish still more appetizing.

Hamburg Sponge.—Soak a table-spoonful of gelatin in two table-spoonfuls of water, then add the juice of an orange. Beat the yolks of three eggs with one-half cupful of sugar, then add the dissolved gelatin and a little grated rind of the orange. Beat until it thickens, then add the stiffly beaten egg whites. Mold and chill. Serve with crushed fruit and sugar or with jam.

Small Cakes.

To serve with a cup of tea when a friend drops in of an afternoon, a small cake or a variety of home-made cookies with a sandwich or two helps the feeling of hospitality given and received.

The old-fashioned crullers which our grandmothers made are dainty tidbits which every one likes and will always be popular.

Crullers.—Cream one-fourth of a cupful of butter with one cupful of sugar, add the yolks of two well-beaten eggs, then the whites beaten stiff. Mix four cupfuls of flour with three and one-half table-spoonfuls of baking powder, one-fourth table-spoonful of nutmeg and add to the butter mixture alternately with one cupful of milk. Mix and toss on a board, roll thin and cut into pieces three inches long by two inches wide; make four gashes one inch long at intervals. Take up by running the finger in and out of the gashes and lower into deep fat. Fry the same as doughnuts. Sprinkle with powdered sugar when cold.

Ginger Snaps.—Heat one cupful of molasses to the boiling point and pour over one-half cupful of shortening. Add three and one-fourth cupfuls of flour, one-half table-spoonful of soda, one table-spoonful of ginger and one and one-half table-spoonfuls of salt, all mixed and sifted thoroughly. Chill well. Toss one-fourth of the mixture on a floured board and roll as thin as possible; shape with a round cutter dipped into flour. Bake in a moderate oven. Keeping the cookie dough chilled will result in a crisp, short cookie, as less flour need be used in rolling.

Hermits.—Cream one-third of a cupful of butter, add two-thirds cupful of sugar gradually, then one-third cupful of raisins cut into bits, one egg well beaten and two table-spoonfuls of milk. Mix and sift one and three-fourths cupfuls of flour with two table-spoonfuls of baking powder, one-half table-spoonful of cinnamon and one-fourth table-spoonful each of cloves, mace and nutmeg; add to the first mixture. Roll out, not too thin, and bake in a moderate oven.

Vanilla Wafers.—Take one-third cupful each of lard and butter, add one cupful of sugar and when well mixed add one beaten egg and one-fourth cupful of milk. Mix and sift two cupfuls of flour with two table-spoonfuls of baking powder and one-half table-spoonful of salt, then add two table-spoonfuls of vanilla to the first mixture and mix all together. Roll very thin, cut into rounds and sprinkle with sugar. Bake in a quick oven.

Part Played by Table in Uplift of Mankind

There was a time when not a table existed in the whole wide world. But one day primitive man, weary of sprawling on the ground, rose and ate his first meal from a broad hewn slab laid on boulders, and from that day his upward climb to civilization began. Today we do not stop to think how much we depend upon tables, but what a dull and inconvenient place a house would be without them. Not only are they at our elbow everywhere to keep things within reach, but how they delight the eye—their lovely designs and beautiful woods.

They minister to our comforts, and please our senses with their grace and charm. Each year they increase in variety and cleverness, and each year, because of them, our homes grow more attractive.

Airmen's Echo Test

Even when the ground is obscured by thick fog, a series of explosions like a machine gun's rat-a-tat-tat within a plane's undercarriage tells an airman his exact height, in a new device to be installed on French aircraft.

The echo from the ground is picked up by electric sound detectors which gauge the craft's altitude, and the device is said to give accurate measurement to within one foot from the ground.

SYNOPSIS

Impoverished by the open-handed generosity of his father, Virginia gentleman, young Webster Brond is serving as a scout and spy for the army under General Braddock preparing for the advance on Fort Duquesne. He has just returned to Alexandria from a visit to the fort, where, posing as a Frenchman, he has secured valuable information.

I worked my way into the taproom of the Royal George and made bold to put a question to a young subaltern. He eyed me haughtily, and then began to admire my leggings and fringed shirt, the nearest he had yet come to Indian life, and in a low voice, so as not to destroy his dignity, began to babble questions. Had I really seen wild Indians? Had I killed any? Was it true the savages cooked and ate at their prisoners? At last I satisfied his greediness and finally learned what I had desired.

Governor Dinwiddie had returned from the Maryland shore and was at the Carlyle house together with others of the council. They were holding the last conference before the army marched.

Quitting the Royal George I hastened to conclude my business. The lumbering coach had disappeared by the time I reached the Carlyle house, but the horses of the escort were tethered under the double row of Lombardy poplars and I knew the council was still in session.

I was acquainted with the house inside and out, and it had changed none during my absence. Mr. Carlyle, a most gracious, kindly man, had permitted us boys to explore it and make it figure prominently in some of our games. Once on a dare from Bushy I had climbed out of a dormer-window and crawled among the heavy-shouldered chimneys and was severely lectured by the owner.

I advanced toward the dark door and quickly found a bayonet disputing my approach, with the sentinel growling for me to halt. His side-long glance at my rifle was ill-favored. My fringed shirt and leggings did not meet with his approval.

"I have news for your excellency, Governor Dinwiddie," I told him.

"This is General Braddock's headquarters. Go back to the road, you woods-rat," he commanded.

"I have news for General Braddock," I persisted.

He advanced the bayonet and, red with anger, I leaped back to escape being pricked. He came on as I retreated; and in this humiliating manner I was being driven from the portal-arch and its massive carved frame when a familiar voice asked an explanation. The sentinel stared over my shoulder sullenly but still kept his bayonet at my breast.

Without turning my head I explained:

"I am Webster Brond, Mr. Carlyle. I have news for the council if I am permitted to give it."

Mr. Carlyle stepped forward and said to the soldier:

"I know this young man. He is one of our citizens and he comes from the western country. The council will wish to hear what he has to say."

But the red-coat knew his orders—and therein was a good soldier—and he would not give in an inch until a superior had passed on my application. He bawled out, and a sergeant appeared on the scene, and Mr. Carlyle repeated his indorsement of me. The sergeant ordered the sentinel back to his post and told us we were at liberty to proceed.

Word was carried inside and after several minutes, during which I heard the clinking of glasses and the muffled giving of a toast, an officer opened the door and motioned for me to enter. I had expected Mr. Carlyle to accompany me, but he was not included in the invitation. He gave me a smile and a nod and passed down the hall and out into the garden.

My conductor motioned for me to halt just inside the door and await the pleasure of the august commander of all the king's soldiers in America General Braddock—of Irish descent say many, but his name is Saxon "Broad-oak"—had Governor Dinwiddie on his right hand and Governor De Lancey of New York on his left. The others around the board were Governors Shirley of Massachusetts, Sharpe of Maryland, Dobbs of North Carolina, Morris of Pennsylvania. Near the foot of the table were Commodore Keppel, Sir John St. Clair, British quartermaster general, and a prominent citizen I had seen several times in Philadelphia, Benjamin Franklin.

None paid any attention to me beyond a passing glance from those faces ing the door. It is very possible some of them took me to be an Indian, or a half-blood; for among the forest folk I was known as Black Brond, and wind and sun had burned and tanned my skin until, on first glance, I was as much of a red man as Round Paw of the Wolf clan, my Onondaga friend. Mr. Franklin was warning General Braddock against his long-drawn-out line being taken by surprise. General Braddock did not relish the admonition and haughtily replied:

"The savage may be a formidable enemy to your raw militia, sir, but on the king's regiments and disciplined troops it is impossible that they can make any impression."

I thought of the red-coats, and the flint-locks discharged in blind volleys, and wondered.

Governor Dinwiddie leaned from his chair and scrutinized me closely, smiled slightly, and said:

"General Braddock, I believe I recognize an Alexandrian in the young man waiting to report. Doubtless he brings fresh news."

"Ten Thousand Pounds to Red Savages!" Rumbled Braddock.

Braddock turned his heavy gaze on me, frowning slightly at what to him was an untidy and rather atrocious apparel, and nodded for me to speak. I produced a written communication from George Croghan, given me by him the night I stopped at his place on Aughwick creek. It was addressed to Governor Morris and I placed it on the table.

His excellency opened it and read it aloud. It stated that ten thousand pounds given in presents to the Indians at Will's creek and in their villages would tie every savage in Pennsylvania to England, provided that the gifts were accompanied by a plausible explanation of England's designs on the Western country. Such liberality, declared Croghan, would "see the scalp of every Frenchman at the heads of the Ohio smoking in wigwams in Shamokin, or hanging on poles in Shenango."

"Ten thousand pounds to red savages!" rumbled General Braddock, and he smashed his fist on the table and set the glasses to dancing. "Good God! Does the fellow think his gracious majesty can dump endless gold into these colonies? The sooner the savages understand that his majesty sends bayonets, not pounds, to all who oppose his will on this continent, the faster we will proceed with our business. Ten thousand pounds! Pennsylvania has refused us wagons, horses, food and even a road to the back settlements!"

Mr. Franklin, who sat with his hands folded in his lap, his shrewd eyes half closed, now spoke up and quietly said, "Pennsylvania will do her part, General. I will pledge that. Virginia and Maryland were to furnish wagons and horses. Pennsylvania has not been informed that more was expected of her than has been given. The jealousies between the colonies are unfortunate. As for the road, our committee is surveying it. Pennsylvania firmly believes, General, that the old trading path, running due west from Philadelphia to Duquesne, is the road your army should take. It keeps to higher drier ground and crosses no streams of any size. The road Virginia insists on is a 'portage' road. We also believe the old trading path would accelerate the movement of supplies to your army, especially those from northern colonies. We believe it's an error not to have the expedition start from, and pass through, Pennsylvania, where every farmer has a wagon, but I promise you the necessary carts and stock by the time they are wanted, General."

Garbed in snuff-colored clothes and entirely lacking in those personal adornments which catch and please the eye, nevertheless Mr. Franklin impressed me as being a man of destiny, and by great odds the strongest man in the room. Nor did I exclude General Braddock in my comparisons.

Sir John St. Clair breathed hard and vowed he could obtain the wagons and horses from the German farmers in the back counties should Mr. Franklin fail. Sir John impressed me as being a man of much temper, and I believed he would have liked nothing better than to use Old-world methods in collecting whatever the army needed.

"If my appeal does not at once bring results, then you shall try your way, Sir John," said Mr. Franklin. "But let us see if the young man has anything more to report."

I rapidly stated:

"Duquesne is temporarily under the command of Captain Beaujeu, of the marines. He has under him about one hundred and fifty Canadians and less than a hundred regulars. His Indians number between six hundred and a thousand, but they come and go in such a fashion that it's hard to give their number with any exactness. Beaujeu is heaping many gifts on the Iroquois there in the hope of drawing the Long House into the war on the side of France. The Indians are nervous and afraid to fight. They have been told our army will number many thousands. If it were not for Pontiac, leader of the Ottawas and Ojibways, Captain Jacobs and Shingis of the Delawares, many of the Indians would throw down the hatchet and return to their villages."

"The fort cannot stand a siege and will not attempt it. Captain Beaujeu fears that William Johnson will succeed in holding the New York Iroquois neutral even if he is not able to enlist them for active service in the Crown Point and Niagara expeditions."

"How is it that you know what this Beaujeu thinks, sirrah?" harshly interrupted General Braddock.

I explained how I had passed myself off at the fort as a Canadian forest-runner and how my Onondaga friend had been accepted as a French Indian. The general stared at me suspiciously and demanded:

"Who vouches for this man, who talks French and fools an officer of the marines?"

Governor Dinwiddie promptly indorsed me.

The general dropped his head and stared at his empty glass. As they seemed to be waiting for me to continue, I said:

"It is commonly believed in Pennsylvania that Carlisle would be vastly better as a frontier station than Will's creek, as it is more accessible to Philadelphia and other centers of supplies. It is also believed that had his majesty's troops landed at Philadelphia the march to the heads of the Ohio would be shortened by six weeks and would have saved at least forty thousand pounds."

Governor Morris nodded in affirmation of this, but the general testily broke in:

"Enough of provincial fault-finding. It's very plain the people of Pennsylvania do not care to bear any of the burdens of this campaign. Maryland and Virginia have promised two hundred and fifty wagons and eleven hundred beaves, and thus far have delivered twenty wagons and two hundred poor horses. The provisions received from Maryland are worthless—broken-down horses and spoiled rations!"

"I have vouched for horses and wagons," quietly reminded Mr. Franklin.

Bread of Guetersloh Boosted by Bismarck

Guetersloh was a town of some 1,500 inhabitants some years ago, when one day during the maneuvers a young lieutenant took up his quarters there. This lieutenant came from Pomerania, where they also make black bread of fine quality, but he liked the peculiar flavor of the Westphalia article. His name was Bismarck.

In the year 1870 Bismarck was again traveling through Guetersloh, this time as chancellor. King William was with him, and when the train stopped the prime minister called out genially to the crowd that had come to meet them:

"Is there anyone who can get us some pumpernickel with butter?"

As a number of reporters were present when this query was made, the fortune of the Guetersloh black bread was made and it speedily became the fashion all over Germany. The craze for Westphalian pumpernickel spread far and wide, cunningly furthered by the bakers, who now baked for export only small one-pound loaves, for the purpose of making it look "more like a delicatessen," as they say.

The bakers of Guetersloh were worldly wise, for from the same kneading troughs there go into the oven first the huge loaves (certain of these going to the farmhouses often weigh half a hundredweight) and then, shaped of what was left, the tiny loaves that are wrapped in paper and exported to all parts of the world to be sold as a delicatessen.

Help Us to Give Good Service

IT would doubtless surprise most telephone users to learn that the Illinois Bell Telephone Company is obliged to repair hundreds of telephones every year which are put out of order by being dropped.

Of course, the repairs are made promptly no matter what happens, but the user is necessarily deprived of his service for at least a short time when such an accident occurs and this might be the time when the telephone would be most needed. It is therefore in the subscriber's own interest that we suggest that care be taken not to damage the instrument.

Windows left open in summer, admitting a sudden rain storm, are also responsible for a great many cases of trouble. Occasionally a bottle of ink or a glass of water is overturned, wetting the telephone cord, and this also causes trouble.

Subscribers will aid us in giving them the best service by taking good care of the equipment.

Evening Worship 7:00 P. M.
Next Sunday evening in honor of Armistice Day, the pastor will preach on: "Ten Years of Peace". Every American should in some way remember the sentiment of this day, and perhaps the church service may help one feel the meaning of the occasion. We invite all to this service.

The pastor has had a most cordial letter from our new District Superintendent, Dr. L. L. Hammitt, in which he states that he will soon come to Mokena to preach for us and to become acquainted with the people. We await his coming and all will want to hear him for it is said that he is a very fine speaker. Watch for the announcement.

Will County Bond Issue Carries

County Bond Issue Road No. 1 along the Kankakee River into Wilmington replaces a worn out gravel surface, and is greatly needed for the farmers to enter Wilmington from the north.

County Bond Issue Road No. 4, 143rd street, is tremendously important since it connects Archer Road (State Bond Issue 4-A) directly with the Cook County pavement which leads all the way east through Orland to the Indiana state line.

County Bond Issue Road No. 5 is a river road along the DuPage River north of Plainfield which will give access toward Naperville long in advance of the pavement on State Bond Issue No. 59. This river road is the market road used by the farmers hauling grain and milk into Plainfield.

County Bond Issue Road No. 8 is as greatly needed as any in Will County, being a new route east out of Joliet midway between the Lincoln Highway and State Bond Issue No. 53, serving the already thick population along the Maple Street Road and connecting to the Cook County paved Wolf Road by a part of the Southwest Highway along the Wabash Railroad.

County Bond Issue Road No. 9 extends south from State Bond Issue No. 113 to the Boy Scout Camp in Custer Township to give access to this fine camp by both the boys and their parents throughout the entire year.

County Bond Issue Road No. 10 is that part of a belt route around Joliet which will allow traffic from State Bond Issue Routes No. 4 and No. 22, north of Joliet, to reach State Bond Issue Routes No. 7 and No. 4 south of Joliet, without passing through the already congested city streets. This is an important policy adopted by the Board, for by-passing Joliet with the through traffic with benefit both to the merchants and the traffic.

County Bond Issue Road No. 11 paves a 3.7 mile mud right of way at the extreme south end of South Chicago Street in Wesley Township. North of the proposed pavement section is a surfaced road leading all the way to No. 4. It would be poor economy to spend funds in extending the present macadam surface, and the Board chose to concrete first the mud road and later pave that part to the north when traffic has made it necessary.

County Bond Issue Road No. 12 is a new entrance to Joliet to relieve the Lincoln Highway entrance by way of Washington Street south of the Rock Island and Michigan Central Railroads.

County Bond Issue Road No. 14 is a part of the original Bond Issue Road No. 14 in the March Resolution, which is to pave the Sauk Trail from the Cook County line west to Frankfort, thence north to connect with State Bond Issue Route 51 into Cook County and west to connect with 51, which leads south to Kankakee. The section in the immediate paving program is that part most needed in Frankfort.

County Bond Issue Road No. 15 is a short strip a half mile in length between the Lincoln Highway and Maple Street Road to serve the hospital.

County Bond Issue Road No. 16 when finished extends from South Chicago Avenue in Jackson Township easterly by almost a direct line to the Indiana line. Part of this is already surfaced with macadam in various stages of repair.

The parts to be constructed are those sections in poorest repair, straight east from Manhattan, omitting one mile of excellent macadam road which was only completed last year. Of course, this investment should not be destroyed. The other section of County Bond Issue No. 16 is a market road into Crete from both directions.

County Bond Issue Road No. 17 is a cutoff for Joliet-Chicago traffic which will keep it out of the intersection where State Bond Issue Route 66 from Plainfield meets Route 4 and State Bond Issue 53 from the north meets Route No. 4, all at one point. This will be a congested corner unless the Joliet-Chicago traffic by-passes this route.

County Bond Issue Road No. 20 is part of a long east and west road extending all the way from South Chicago Avenue to the Indiana line. The most needed portion at the present time being almost the poorest section of this entire route, namely that into the town of Beecher from the west.

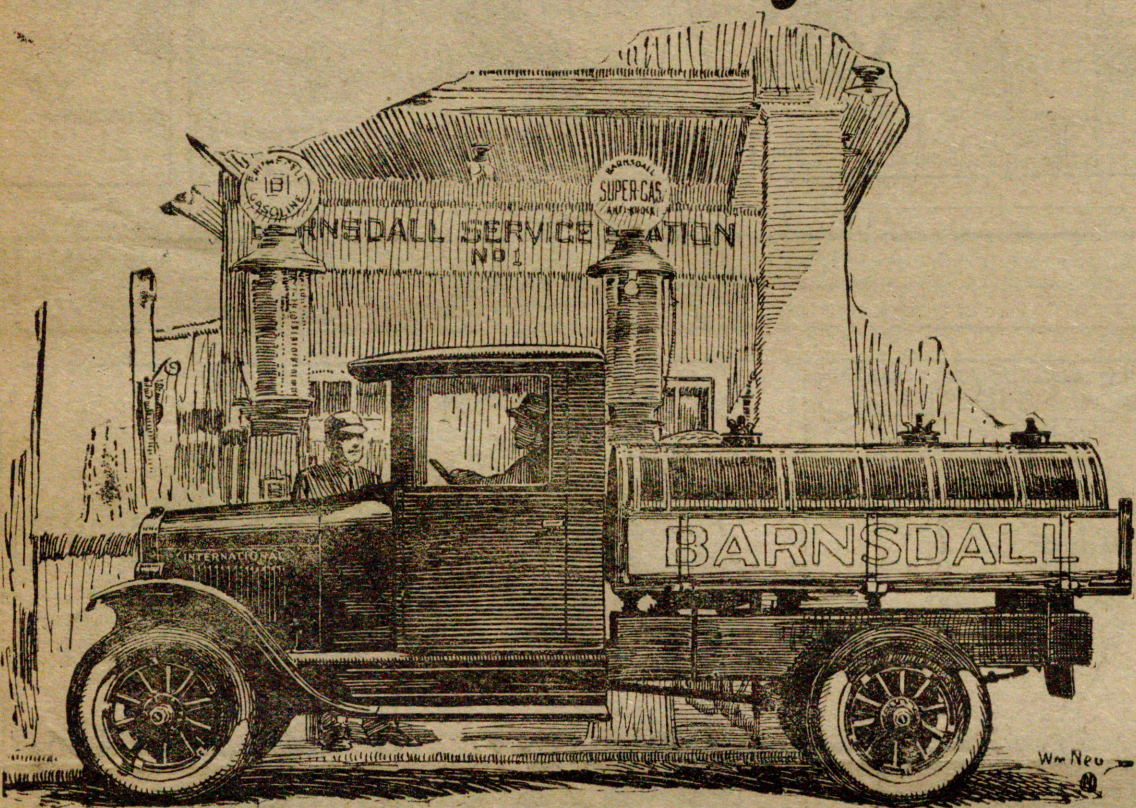

County Bond Issue Road No. 22 is a route giving Braidwood a direct connection to State Bond Issue No. 113 on the south side of the Kankakee River.

County Bond Issue Road No. 23 is the much needed extension of the newly completed Wolf Road in Cook County straight south to connect with the Lincoln Highway. This serves the Village of Mokena with a direct connection to the Cook County road system.

Hoover Is Best Bet

The likelihood is that, under Herbert Hoover's direction, agriculture would achieve stabilization more quickly, more certainly, with fewer waste motions, and with less knocking and backfiring and gear-grinding than under the direction of any other human being.—Minneapolis Tribune.

NEW—Absolutely NEW!

THE "SIX-SPEED SPECIAL"

Only International Harvester Offers You This Combination of SPEED and PULLING POWER in a 1-TON TRUCK.

HERE'S a brand-new kind of truck that positively won't quit under the very worst road conditions, as long as there's traction. It is a real heavy-duty Speed Truck, designed and built to stand the gaff, and it is exclusive with International Harvester.

This truck is the "Six-Speed Special." It has a 2-speed rear axle which, with the transmission, gives the truck 6 forward and 2 reverse speeds. This means that your high speed of 35 miles per hour can be turned into ten times as much pulling power the moment you need it. The same easy engine speed then carries your load through the hardest kind of going at 3 1/2 miles per hour.

The "Six-Speed Special" has everything else. Four-wheel brakes, six-inch-deep frame, long and sturdy rear springs, and all chassis members strictly heavy-duty throughout. Reliable speed truck engine, noted for quick pick-up and fuel economy. Attractive lines, bodies for all loads (including a special grain-tank and stock-rack combination for agricultural hauling), and a low price that will surprise you.

Call on us or 'phone, and we will give you or your driver a thorough demonstration out on the road.

This provides three extra low speeds ranging down to 3 1/2 miles an hour, with ten times as much pulling power over "high-high" speed. For regular driving, a shift of the axle-control lever at the driver's right changes to direct drive, providing 35 miles an hour with the same easy engine speed. This 2-speed rear axle converts extra speed into greater pulling power, or the greater pulling power into extra speed, as conditions demand.

Are You Ready

When your Children Cry for It

Baby has little upsets at times. All your care cannot prevent them. But you can be prepared. Then you can do what any experienced nurse would do—what most physicians would tell you to do—give a few drops of plain Castoria. No sooner done than Baby is soothed; relief is just a matter of moments. Yet you have eased your child without use of a single doubtful drug; Castoria is vegetable. So it's safe to use as often as an infant has any little pain you cannot pat away. And it's always ready for the crueler pangs of colic, or constipation or diarrhea; effective, too, for older children. Twenty-five million bottles were bought last year.

Improved Uniform International Sunday School Lesson

(By REV. P. B. FITZWATER, D.D., Dean Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.)
(© 1923, Western Newspaper Union.)

Lesson for November 11

PEACE AND GOOD WILL AMONG MEN

LESSON TEXT—Rom. 12:1, 2, 9-21.
GOLDEN TEXT—Love worketh no ill to his neighbor, therefore love is the fulfilling of the law.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Treating Each Other Right.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Treating Each Other Right.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—How to Promote Good Will.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Message and Program of World Peace.

I. The Christian's Relation to God (vv. 1, 2).
He is dedicated to God. He consciously presents his entire being to God.

1. The basis of this dedication (v. 1). "The mercies of God." The grand reason for the dedication of ourselves to God is because we are recipients of the mercies of God. The dynamic which makes possible our yielding to God is the gospel which is the power of God unto salvation. Our union with Christ makes us willing and able to give ourselves to God.

2. The nature of the dedication (v. 1).

(1) An act of the free will. Those who voluntarily present themselves to God, He consecrates to His service. (2) It embraces the whole man (v. 1). By "bodies" is meant the entire personality—spirit, soul and body (1 Thess. 5:23). (3) It is a living sacrifice (v. 1). In the Old Testament the victim was slain before being placed upon the altar, but in our case God wants our bodies as living instruments of service. (4) It is for rational service (v. 1). The logical outcome of our union with Christ is an intelligent service for Him.

3. The obligation of the one dedicated to the Lord (v. 2). It is non-conformity to this world. The one who has handed himself over to the Lord will not be fashioned by this evil age (1 John 5:19).

II. The Christian's Relation to His Fellow-Believer (vv. 9-13).

1. Love without hypocrisy (v. 9). We should not pretend to love people while hating them in our hearts. Feigned love is disguised hate.

2. Abhor the evil and cleave to the good (v. 9). God's children must be like Him. God hates wickedness of all sorts, so His children will have the same attitude toward sin that He has.

3. Be kindly affectioned one to another (v. 10). Real brotherly love is that which passes between those who are of one blood—members of the same family. In Christ we are really members one of the other.

4. In honor preferring one another (v. 10). This is most difficult. It is natural to claim the best places for ourselves. Christ pleased not Himself.

5. Not slothful in business (v. 11). This refers primarily to spiritual affairs—to the church life which is to be characterized by zeal, energy and warmth, being regarded as service to the Lord.

6. Rejoicing in hope (v. 12). Afflictions will surely come to the Christian, but in all trials he should be filled with hope of future glory.

7. Patient in tribulation (v. 12). This blessed hope will make possible a life of patience.

8. Continuing in prayer (v. 12). Only by constant and persistent prayer shall we be able to live above our circumstances and fix our hope upon Him whose coming shall bring deliverance from all our trials and transform us into His glorious likeness.

9. Distributing to the necessity of saints; given to hospitality (v. 13). It is obligatory on Christians to aid fellow Christians who are destitute.

III. The Christian's Relation to Unbelievers (vv. 14-21).

1. Do good to evil (v. 14). We are to bless those who persecute us.

2. Be sympathetic (v. 15). We should rejoice with those who rejoice and weep with those who weep. This was pre-eminently fulfilled in Christ while on earth, and in heaven now He enters into our joys and sorrows as our sympathetic High Priest.

3. Find points of agreement (v. 16). We should seek for points of agreement in all things.

4. Live honestly before all men (v. 17). Our manner of life should be that which will commend the grace of God in Christ.

5. Live in peace (v. 18). We should exhaust every means to bring about reconciliation. If the other party will not yield we should see to it that it is not our fault.

6. Be not vindictive (vv. 19-21). Instead of demanding eye for eye and tooth for tooth, we should heap coals of fire upon our enemies by deeds of kindness.

Jesus at the Door

If Jesus Christ is at this time knocking at the door of your heart, the fact is that He is on the outside. And if He is on the outside, there is but one person who can let Him in, and that is yourself.—O. B.

Live Right

While you live right, nothing goes wrong; a soul at peace with God cannot be greatly disturbed by the world for it hath its pleasures in God and its blessings from God.—Jackson.

The Easiest Way to Keep in Style

By MAE MARTIN

No woman would wear dresses, or blouses, or stockings of a color that's decidedly out of style or faded, if all of us knew how easy it is to make things fresh, crisp and stylish by the quick magic of home tinting or dyeing.

Anybody can tint or dye successfully with true, fadeless Diamond Dyes. Tinting with them is as easy as bluing, and dyeing takes just a little longer. New, stylish colors appear like magic, right over the old, faded colors. Diamond Dyes never spot, streak or run. They are real dyes, like those used when the cloth was made. Insist on them and save disappointment.

My new 64-page illustrated book, "Color Craft," gives hundreds of money-saving hints for renewing clothes and draperies. It's Free. Write for it now, to Mae Martin, Dept. D-143, Diamond Dyes, Burlington, Vermont.

Failure and Bad Temper

Rev. Marna Poulson, superintendent for New Jersey of the Anti-Saloon league, was recently exonerated of a charge of criminal libel, and in an interview in Newark he said:

"The men who failed in their attack on me are rather nasty now. Well, when you fail you are apt to be nasty and abusive."

"It's like the case of the medico. The medico was dashing along at a good pace when his horse pulled up before a certain house. The medico scowled as black as a thunder cloud and gave the horse a nasty, cruel cut with the whip."

"Go on!" he hissed. "Go on, you fool! He's dead."—Detroit Free Press.

Last Resort

Homebody—So you must catch the 11:40 train west? Is it important?

Holmes—It's vital. My doctor says I must have my regular sleep, and a berth on that train is the only lodging I can find for tonight.

According to a leading London hatter, five times as many silk "stove-pipe hats" are being sold this year as in 1923.

Trees Grow in Swamp Without Visible Soil

Huge trees growing without any visible means of support are a striking feature of the great Zapata swamp of southern Cuba. This swamp, nearly 1,800 square miles in extent, includes an area of limestone that is filled with holes and covered with a variety of tropical trees. Silk-cotton trees four feet in diameter, big mahoganies, and many other kinds are found growing on this limestone area, where not so much as a single spoon of soil could be gathered from an acre. The trees make their start in small pockets and holes in the limestone, where collections of leaves and slight accumulations of disintegrated rock furnish them with cover for growth. The roots stray about over the surface of the rock in search of food, finally plunging through holes to find sustenance in soil hidden deeply in the cavernous recesses of the coral stone.

Mother and Baby Gain Health, Strength and Flesh

"I am so grateful for what Milks Emulsion has done for me that I am writing you this letter."

"I had a terrible cough and for four months was so weak that I had to rest on the bed several times while dressing. In fact, after putting on one stocking I would have to lie down and rest before putting the other on. People thought I had tuberculosis, but they don't think so now. I was so weak that I could not care for my baby, who was not getting sufficient nourishment to give him any strength. But after taking your Emulsion for a few months I regained my health and now I weigh 145 pounds. My baby is one year old and weighs 30 pounds. We are both in perfect health and we thank Milks Emulsion for it."

"You can publish this letter if you care to. I shall always praise Milks Emulsion." Yours truly, MRS. ED. ROUSE, Shelbyville, Ind. R. R. No. 9.

Inquisitiveness

Mrs. Teller—"Mrs. Watts always asks the price of everything." Mrs. Asker—"And what's she been trying to find out now?" Mrs. Teller—"She wanted to know how much I paid for this dress." Mrs. Asker—"Such inquisitiveness! How much did you tell her?"—Pathfinder Magazine.

Purely Indian Diet

American Indians, before the advent of the white man, cultivated eight native vegetables. These included beans, corn, peppers, pumpkins, squash, tomato and sweet potato.—Farm and Fireside.

(This Doctor's advice to mothers is invaluable)

He says

"Two tablespoonfuls of Karo in a glass of milk improves its flavor and doubles its food value."

"SERVE plenty of Karo to America's greatest Child especially to underweight the kiddies", advises one of specialists, "serve Karo children, in milk, on cereals, on sliced bread. Watch their weight increase!"

Karo gives muscular energy immediately—there's no tax on the digestive organs.

Karo contains 120 calories to the ounce—almost twice the energy value of eggs and lean meat, weight for weight.

Children naturally like Karo—its delicious sweetness and flavor satisfies their youthful craving for sweets.

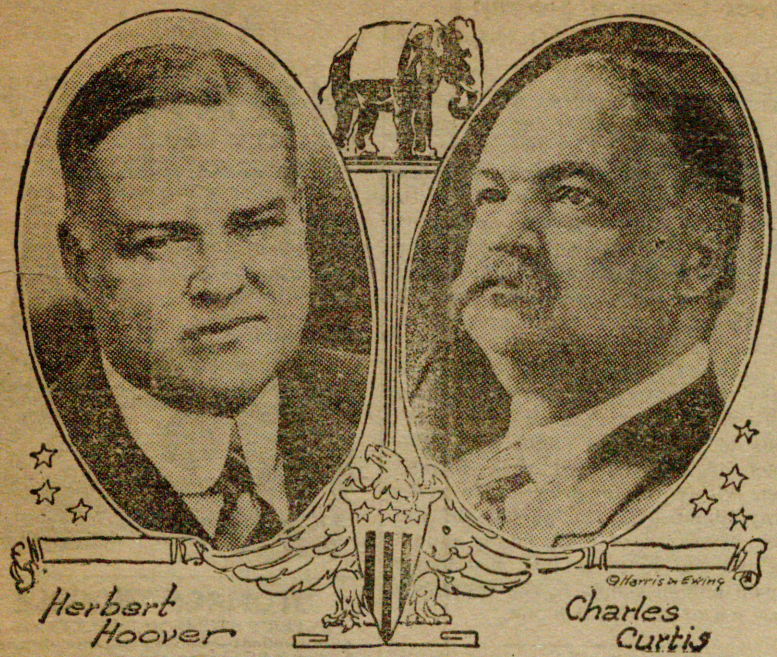

To know that children like the food that's so good for them, a food that leading doctors highly endorse and recommend, is, indeed, good news to every mother.

ECONOMY

Compare the price of Karo per pound with other foods. Karo is unusually economical.

Four Bankrupt
Stocks Bought by
The White Store

Purchase of the bankrupt stock of four stores, has enabled the White Store, 401-407 Cass street, Joliet, to offer an unusually large amount of merchandise at sharply reduced prices during the sale which is now in progress.

Stocks of Carson's Store, the Hub, My Store and the store of L. A. Thompson, Plainfield, are offered at this bankrupt sale. The purchase of these bankrupt stocks brings the total of such purchases made by the White Store to 38, according to J. J. Cohen, proprietor of the Cass street store.

In commenting on the purchase of the stock of Carson's store, Mr. Cohen said, "In the buying history of Joliet or any other city in the country, to purchase goods of such high quality at such ridiculously low prices, is an outstanding accomplishment. It offers customers one of the greatest chances for real bargains ever offered in this city. This wonderful stock was purchased from the United States court for a trifle of its actual value and we are glad of the opportunity to pass these tremendous savings on to our many friends."

The bankrupt stock includes a large assortment of women's wearing apparel, men's clothing, children's outfits, boots and shoes, bed clothing and other dry goods of every description.

car the first, chosen Chicago politician, was the Republican nominee; but in the Twenty-first district Frank M. Ramey, Republican, ousted the Democratic congressman, J. Earl Major.

In the state legislative contests the Democrats won some notable victories, the chief of which was the defeat of John (Dingbat) Oberta, Chicago gang leader and candidate for state senator in the Fourth district, by Frank McDermott. However, the partisan complexion of the legislature was little changed, the Republicans retaining the control of both chambers by large majorities.
